PREFACE

THE first printed Catalogue of the books in the Library of the *Incorporated Law Society appeared in 1841, and was followed by others in 1851 and 1869; then, after a lapse of more than twenty years, a larger one was issued in 1891, and Supplements to it in 1894 and 1898. The present Supplement embodies these two Supplements and contains all additions made to the Library during the fifteen years from July 1891 to July 1906; it also contains the Society's manuscripts which are now catalogued for the first time.

Neither the Catalogue of 1891 nor this Supplement contains the books in the Mendham collection. A separate Catalogue of these was printed in 1871, and was followed in 1874 by a short Supplement, both of which are now out of print.

The present Supplement has been compiled on the same principles as the Catalogue of 1891, all works being arranged under the names of their authors (when known) and subjects. In exceptional cases, works have been catalogued under the names of their editors or publishers. The dates of publication of all works as well as their authors' names have been given, when they could be ascertained. The enclosure in square brackets of any information concerning a volume (such as the author's name or the date of publication) denotes that such information has been obtained from sources other than the title page.

* The present name and style of 'The Law Society' was granted to the Society by Royal Charter, in 1903.

The following abbreviations have been used :—

A. P. M. . . .	Annual Provincial Meeting of the Law Society.
Bibl. Soc. Mon. .	Bibliographical Society's Illustrated Monographs.
Bibl. Soc. Pub. .	Bibliographical Society's Publications, First Series.

In September 1903, Mr. Frederic Boase, who had been Librarian to the Society for upwards of twenty-five years, retired, and in April 1904 the Council appointed Mr. W. M. Sinclair to be Librarian in his place.

The completion of the new wing of the Society's Hall, in the spring of 1904, permitted the removal from the East Library to the Common Room and other rooms in the building of nearly 10,000 volumes, whereby the overcrowding of the books in the former room was relieved and space was left for future extensions. At the same time a separate library was formed in the West Room for students and members' clerks, and the East Room is now reserved for the exclusive use of the members of the Society.

The total number of volumes in the Library is 47,000.

July 1906.
